

Innovation in Community-Engaged Teaching Award
University Conference on Teaching, Learning and Technology

Recipients for this award must...

- Have taught at UMASS Boston for at least two academic years.
- Must have practiced the innovation in design and/or teaching strategies/pedagogical practices within the past two years.
- Have demonstrated commitment to community-engaged student learning, with emphasis on using innovation and novel approaches in course design and pedagogical practices that promote student learning and a positive student experience through communityengaged instruction including public service internships or community partner projects.

Please send a 100- 150 word recommendation which includes a description of how the faculty member has done one or more of the following:

- Integrated curriculum with a community-engaged service-learning component in a novel or innovative way;
- Leveraged technology to support the community-engaged instruction in a novel or innovative way;
- Developed/implemented a community-engaged service learning strategy that has demonstrated impact on teaching effectiveness.